

Community Service Through Education Events

Chinese American Faculty Association (CAFA)

Description

The Chinese American Faculty Association (CAFA) and Central California Chinese Cultural Association (CCCCA) have co-sponsored community service events through education and outreach since October 2017. These events include oral presentations, panel discussions and facility tour by professors from different specialties across the university. Even during the COVID-19 outbreak, we did not stop and reached out to the local Chinese community through virtual/online meetings. The topics covered education, investment, quality of life, health and wellness. It has benefited the local communities and received excellent feedback. The programs have established a close relationship between CSU-Fresno and local communities.
