

CRLP Region 7

Reimagined to Reengage and Reignite Teacher Leaders Across the Central Valley

CRLP Mission.

The mission of the California Reading & Literature Project (CRLP) is to provide high quality, standards-based teacher professional development in reading and academic language instruction. Through collaborative partnerships with schools and districts, CRLP supports and sustains continuous academic growth for all students, Pre-K through 12th grade.

“California educators deserve opportunities for professional learning that are commensurate with the responsibility of educating a diverse student population.”

Project Goals.

Provide Supports to Teachers and Leaders of EL Learners

Provide Academic and Disciplinary Literacy Supports

Develop Committed and Confident Teacher Leaders

CRLP is committed to supporting the California State Standards in ELA/Literacy and ELD as well as disciplinary literacy across the content areas K-12. Additionally, the core of our work is to create district partnerships focused on professional development and technical assistance in our CRLP Signature Programs and regional offerings. Based on the CRLP Capacity Building Model, the intent is moving teachers, teacher leaders and school leaders through the phases of program implementation and support from exploration, installation, initial implementation, full implementation, innovation, and sustainability in order to increase student success in literacy and language development.

Fall 2017 Webinar Series

STEM: Getting Kids to Do the Work

Session 2 - Dec 7, 2017

In this vignette, you will see how content knowledge, literacy, and language are developed as fifth-grade students engage in an engineering lesson sequence. Through application of the Engineering Design Process, students employ creative and careful thinking about how to solve a real-life engineering challenge, providing authentic and exciting opportunities to develop and apply science content knowledge, literacy, language, and 21st-century skills.

Language+Literacy+ Science = Action

Session 1 - October 19, 2017

In this webinar by the California Reading and Literature Project, you will learn how one first-grade teacher has created an innovative community of inquiry using Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) content to get her students listening, speaking, reading, and writing. We will share her planning process, pedagogy, routines, resources, and amazing examples of her students' work.

Spring 2018 Webinar Series

A Framework for Understanding Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century: an Introduction to the California ELA/ELD Framework

Session 1 - Feb 18, 2018

This webinar will provide you with an overall introduction to the Framework and an overview of the standards. You will explore essential considerations in ELA/Literacy and ELD curriculum, instruction, and assessment and take a beginning look at content and pedagogy for each grade span.
