

MCJ Multimedia Production Service

Video • Photography

The MCJ Multimedia Production Service at Fresno State provides video and photography services to the Fresno State campus and local government, educational and non-profit organizations. The service utilizes multimedia production students and graduates to produce media for clients under the supervision of professor Candace Egan, the executive producer and production manager of the service.

- Promotional videos
- Educational/Training videos
- Video documentaries & reports
- Event photography & videography
- Speaker and presentation recordings
- Multi-camera events & performances
- Oral histories & interviews
- Demonstrations

