

Fall 2025 – Julian Lopez

Major: Construction Management
Construction Management
Intern

Who he is:

Julian is a junior at Fresno State pursuing a degree in Construction Management. Born in Crete, NE and raised in Orange Cove, CA, he's already obtained professional construction experience in the wind infrastructure industry. He hopes to pursue a career as a Construction or Project Manager, whether it's in residential building, large-scale infrastructure, or renewable energy projects such as wind and solar, all components of what he's currently learning at NORESO!

Personal Interests:

Outside of school and work, Julian likes to stay fit and enjoys partaking in weightlifting and other forms of exercise. His favorite football is the Dallas Cowboys, and he's a big fan of MMA, his favorite athlete being Conor McGregor.

Summary of Internship:

Julian is a Construction Management Intern whose responsibilities will include assisting the CUP supervisor in managing the plant, learning leadership & managerial responsibilities, and gaining knowledge in the construction field.