

2024 Scholarship Recipients

Amaya De Vore - Outstanding Achievement in Community Outreach, Education, and Promotion of Energy Efficiency

- Biology Master's
- Amaya's research at Fresno State aims to evaluate the impact of zoo-based environmental education at Golden Charter Academy on elementary students' academic performance and their connection to nature over time. This study, using a mixed-methods, longitudinal approach, seeks to enhance understanding of effective environmental education practices, particularly in underserved communities, to equip students with the skills needed to address climate change and other global challenges.
- Upon graduation, Amaya would like to teach at the community college or CSU system while deciding if she'd like to pursue her PhD.
