

Nursing Mothers and Lactation Accommodations

Fresno State recognizes the importance of supporting nursing parents and their infants. The university is committed to providing clean, functional lactation stations and reasonable break time for faculty, staff, and students who are nursing.

Each lactation room is designed for single occupancy to ensure privacy and comfort.

Lactation stations are equipped with a comfortable chair, an attached side table, and access to electrical outlets to support breast pumps.

Nursing parents are responsible for bringing sealed containers and arranging for proper milk storage.

Lactation rooms are available on a first-come, first-served basis to all faculty, staff, and students.
