

Chicanx and Latin American Studies Student Association (CLASSA)

What is CLASSA?

It is Fresno State's Chicano and Latin American Studies Student Association and is affiliated with the Chicano and Latin American Studies Department.

It's purpose is to provide students opportunity to interact with Fresno State faculty and Administration. As well as provide skill development in leadership and networking opportunities.

Can anyone join CLASSA?

Membership to CLASSA is open to all Fresno State Students who are CLAS major/minors, or who have completed 3 units in CLAS. Most importantly "Each regular member has equal rights and privileges." - as stated in the constitution.

How do I join CLASSA?

Easy. Reach out to us on any of our social media accounts, or send us an email. We will add you to our Group roster and keep you informed on meetings and activities you can attend and participate in.

Use this link to access the CLASSA WEBSITE. Once there you can get more information and find the CLASSA sign up form.

Why did we choose our LOGO, what do the bandanas mean?

Our logo depicts three Zapatista women, which can also be interpreted as three female farm workers. They are symbolic of modern indigenous resistance and the everyday struggle of the campesino.

The bandanas mask their faces so that no one individual can be seen as more important than the others. This is unity through anonymity. Every individual is equally important to the cause. In regards to farm workers, the bandanas give them a limited protection from the toxic chemicals that they're exposed to everyday.
